Assignment Description:

You will be given one week to design, research and create an admin login system. This system will allow the user to log in and gain access to their web-based admin account.

Assignment Requirements:

This is a research-based assignment. All code used must be commented and explained by you as well as changed. Using tutorials/reference* is allowed, but a straight regurgitation of the tutorial will result in a failing grade. Make it your own.

*Please supply a text file with the links to all tutorials & references used.
Failure to do so will result in a '0' till supplied.

Additional information will be given in class, you are encouraged and expected to ask questions if you are absent it is your responsibility to check with other students.

Assignment Rubric:

- 00 - 30% :: Allows user to login to a welcome page.
- 30 - 60% :: Displays date/time of LAST successful login.
- 60 - 80% :: Account lockout after 3 failed login attempts.
- 80 - 100% :: Display 3 different welcome messages based off of time of day.

Submission:

Please upload your zip file before the dropbox due date. Misnamed files will receive a 10% deduction in grade.

REQUIRED SUBMISSION FILES - ZIP(All working and web ready files)

Naming convention for submission:

e.g.) Pan_B_3014_r1.zip

Additional Information:

Missed tests/exams will not be rescheduled without some valid evidence of some important event over which the student has no control (e.g., Court appearance, death in the family). Missed tests or exams, therefore, can receive a zero. The students are advised to notify the professor prior to missing the test.

Students are expected to hand in all assignments to the course instructor on the due date, and all assignments must be submitted in the format specified by the instructor (e.g., on FOL, in printed form, on a specific lab computer, etc.); assignments will not be accepted in any format other than that specified.

Late assignments will not be accepted, nor will make up test or assignments be permitted, without some valid evidence of some important event over which the student has no control (e.g., documented illness, death in the family). Missed tests or assignments, therefore, will receive a mark of zero. Late assignments and make-up tests will only be permitted following the submission of adequate documentation acceptable to the instructor (e.g., a doctor's note). Students are advised to notify the instructor prior to missing an assignment due date or a scheduled test.

Immediately upon return from an illness/absence in which a test or assignment has been missed, the student is responsible for contacting the course instructor to discuss the problem. The instructor will make arrangements for any student deemed eligible. The alternative test/assignment will be of equal value to the one missed with no grade penalty. The timeline and due dates will be determined by the course instructor.

At mid-term, any unsatisfactory results will be reported to the student.

This course may be revised by the professor with suitable notification to the students. Students are responsible for making arrangements to pick up missed handouts, assignments and course announcements from classmates.

Plagiarism (e.g., failure to acknowledge sources used, submitting another student's work under your name, or producing work for another student to submit) is a serious academic offense that shall result in appropriate penalties, to be determined at the discretion of the course professor in consultation with the chairperson of the Communication Arts division. The penalties shall range from failure of an assignment to possible failure of the course. Students shall not make the assumption that any provision will be made by the professor to permit the student to rewrite or redo failed assignments.
